Intercessional Services Held Throughout the Kingdom-Bonfires to Be Lighted This Evening.

LONDON, June 29.-Last night passed with less incident at Buckingham Palace than any other night since the operation was performed on King Edward. There public apparently having accepted the official announcement that the King has passed the point of immediate danger. The following bulletin was issued at 9 o'clock this morning: "The King feels stronger in spite of some discomfort from the wound. Nothing has occurred to disturb the satisfactory progress the King is making."

o'clock, consequently the few persons who were passing the neighborhood of the paiace were the only ones attracted to the announcement. When the footmen had posted the notice, however, the crowds soon increased, early church-goers stopping to read the latest news and passing on with expresssions of thankfulness.

A bulletin posted at the palace at 4 o'clock this afternoon said the King's progress was in every way satisfactory and that the local discomfort had decreased.

King Edward's physicians announced at 9:40 o'clock to-night that the royal patient's progress was entirely satisfactory. No further bulletins will be issued to-night.

Sunday has again been a day of intercessional services throughout the kingdom for the recovery of King Edward. In the morning a vast crowd of the general public gathered at St. Paul's Cathedral. There was also present a representative gathering of government and colonial officials and uniformed colonial officers. The Duke and Duchess of Connaught and their children and Lord and Lady Lansdowne sat under the dome. An impressive service was conducter by the Bishop of Stepney, the Right Rev. PHILIPPINE MEASURES

CIVIL GOVERNMENT AND TARIFF ACTS ARE OF IMPORTANCE.

Others Laws Affect Chinese, Oleomargarine and Irrigation-Reciprocity and Other Bills Held Up.

WASHINGTON, June 29 .- The work of Congress is now practically closed, so that it is possible to sum up the record of what has been accomplished during the past seven months, which constitute the first session of the Fifty-seventh Congress. The session has been marked by exceptional business activity, with many questions of far reaching general interest engaging attention. With the exception of the Cuban reciprocity bill most of the larger subjects of general legislation have been enacted as laws or will become such before the session

Notable among these larger measures is groundless nature of the charges. the isthmian canal bill, which consummates the efforts of a half century to link together the waters of the Atlantic and Pacific. Aside from its national and international importance this bill probably involves a larger sum of money than that covering any other single undertaking by the government outside of war expenditures. The Philippine civil government bill is another measure of far reaching importance, extending to our remote Pacific possession a fled over the hills in the direction of Bloomsystem of internal government, together with coinage, currency, banking, corpora- Seven Cars Wrecked While Running tion, timber and homestead laws. Among the other important general laws enacted are those repealing the war revenue taxes; extending and making more effective the Chinese exclusion laws; establishing a tariff for goods to and from the Philippines; extending the charter of national banks for twenty years; establishing a permanent census office; restricting the sale of oleomargarine by placing a high tax on imitation butter; providing a consular and diplomatic service for Cuba; establishing an extensive system by which the government will aid in the irrigation of the arid sections of the West.

The repeal of the war revenue taxes reduced taxation $73,250,000, and is said to be the largest single reduction of taxation ever made in this country. By this step the last of the taxes imposed at the beginning of our war with Spain was wiped out. The Philippine tariff act imposes 75 per cent, of the Dingley tariff rates on articles coming from the Philippines to the United States and also imposes on articles entering the Philippines from the United States Philippine commission.

Aside from these important laws, there are a number of other measures of general importance which have passed one or both houses, but have not progressed to the final stage. These include the anti-anarchy legislation, which grew out of the assassination of President McKinley. Bills restrictters in the art of affidavits and addresses ing anarchy and throwing safeguards about the President have passed both presented by Major Gardener, but refused branches of Congress, but it has been impossible to reach an agreement in confer-A bill giving statehood to Arizona, New bus statehood bill, passed the House, and matter early in the next session. session has come without the measure being reported to the House. As it passed the Senate, the bill grants graded subsidies to steam and sailing vessels of American build. In the House it has been deemed a bill on the subject will be reported and urged to the passage.

The bill creating the Appalachian forest reserve, including a vast tract in the Appalachian mountain section of the South, has received favorable attention in both houses, but has gone over for final adjustment of differences until next December. been brought before Congress. After considerable public discussion and several con-ferences by the members of the House it has gone over for consideration next December. Another financial measure, known as the Hill bill, providing for the coinage of subsidiary silver and for the retirement of the present standard silver dollar, has passed the House, but has not been acted on in the Senate.

MINOR LEGISLATION. Among the important measures of general legislation not heretofore named which have been finally enacted as laws are the following: To prevent the sale of firearms, opium and intoxicating liquors to the natives of certain of the Pacific islands; to promote the efficiency of the revenue service and to provide for the retirement of its officers; to refund the duty paid in Porto Rico on articles imported from the United States during the military occupation; appropriating $200,000 for the relief of the volcano sufferers at Martinique; authorizing the erection of Y. M. C. A. buildings on United States military reservations; regulating the introduction of eggs of game birds for purposes of propagation; providing for the protection of game in Alaska, particularly the large game, such as moose, caribou, etc.; extending an invitation to the French government to participate in the Marshal De Rochambeau; refunding the amount of legacy tax paid by charitable, benevolent and eleemosinary institutions. The amount of appropriations for the session will run unusually high, owing in part to the amount required to build the isthmian canal. When Mr. Cannon submitted a general estimate of appropriations a few weeks ago he made the total up to that time $691,445,000. Since then the canal bill has passed, carrying a present appropriation of $40,000,000 for the franchise and enough more for the rights of Colombia and for beginning the work to carry the total up to $50,000,000. The entire cost of the undertaking is approximately $184,000,000. Mr. Cannon's estimate also omitted contracts for future expenditure included in the omnibus public buildings, the omnibus claims and various other bills, aggregating a large amount. This will carry the total for the session, figuring in these future amounts, almost, if not quite, up to the billion-dollar mark.

The appropriation bills have contained little general legislation, being confined chiefly to the regular needs of the various branches of the government. The naval bill provided for an addition of two armored cruisers, two battleships and two gunboats to the navy, and a provision is still in controversy as to whether one of each class of these ships shall be built in government yards.

There have been several investigations during the session which have attracted much attention. An investigation of conditions in the Philippines conducted by the Philippine commission of the Senate has led to the examination of many witnesses high in the conduct of civil and military affairs in the islands. Another Senate inquiry has related to the condition of affairs in Cuba, especially as to sugar. In the House sensational charges made in connection with the purchase of the Danish West Indian islands led to an investigation which disclosed the

One That Was Planted by the Late President Promises to Live Long.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WASHINGTON, June 29.-The White House grounds at Washington are noted for their large and beautiful trees, some of which have been there for years. One of the prettiest of the younger trees is the little white oak planted by President McKinley. It was planted by him at 9:15 on the morning of the first day of November, 1898. Norris, the old gardener, who held the tree while the President shoveled in the earth, said that at the time it was planted he did not expect it to live a month, but just at present it looks as though it were good for a century. The little tree stands just in front of the old conservatory, now being torn down to make room for the new office building of the present chief executive. During the heat of the day one generally can see the President's two game chickens resting peacefully in its shade. Just to the right as one enters the White House grounds is a flourishing chestnut oak that was planted by Mrs. Cleveland during Panhandle Tracks Washed Out by her husband's last administration.

At the end of an hour the Meteor ing his wife to this city from St. Paul might | worked out ahead of the Cicely, which had already distanced the other contestants. The Cicely challenged the Meteor for the to the last, giving directions about his busi- weather berth, slowly passed her and lengthened her lead. The time at the first mark was as follows: Cicely, 3 hours 24 minutes 40 seconds; the Meteor, 3 hours 29 minutes 20 seconds. As the wind had dropped a good deal the sailing committee decided to shorten the course by one side of the triangle and to instruct the yachts to come home direct from the first mark. The committee consequently borrowed all the available steam | there had to wait until the waters subaunches in the neighborhood, and, with a sided before they could get home. yachts and inform them of the decision under these instructions, the Cicely rounded the mark and started for home, but Emperor William objected to this change of the course, because the Meteor was coming in the reach, which would show her best points. The sailing committee countermanded its previous instructions. The Cicely meantime had lost the five minutes she had gained and, being to leeward, she lost five minutes more in jibbing. All the yachts, with their spinnakers boomed out on starboard, then started for the second mark, seven miles away. On this reach the wind continued to die away. The Meteor rounded the second mark a long way ahead of the other yachts, and when she started on the homeward leg of eleven miles it was almost completely calm. All the observation yachts and excursion steamers left the racers at this point. The yachts were The sailing committee has decided if the

The rain began last night about 9 o'clock and fell in torrents. Sewers were unable to carry off the water and several of the leading streets were impassable for hours. The East Main-street Christian Church was shut off for three hours, and a large crowd who had been attending an entertainment the launches started to intercept the this morning and board sidewalks were washed away, entirely cutting off some

Crops Damaged in Lawrence County.

BEDFORD, Ind., June 29 .- A terrific wind and rainstorm passed over this vicinity last night, doing great damage to the crops which are reported as being flattened to the ground. Corn is said to be broken and twisted and the roads and fields badly washed by the almost unprecedented fall of rain. Farmers say they are having a great deal more rain than is necessary, and they are not in the best of spirits. Lightning crippled the electric-light service and left the city in darkness. The telephone system throughout the county is padly demoralized. Many casualties from lightning are reported.
